

STUNNING SCENERY, EXCELLENT SHOOTING & OUTSTANDING HOSPITALITY

If you are looking for a memorable day out in stunning countryside with friends, colleagues or business clients why not join us for a Simulated Game Day at Boughton.

Boughton is a traditional rural estate near Kettering in Northamptonshire which has been in the family since 1528 when it was acquired by Sir Edward Montagu, a direct ancestor of the present Duke of Buccleuch. The Estate extends to 11,200 acres with the 'English Versailles', Boughton House, and its historic landscaped gardens, at its heart.

Experience excellent hospitality and a variety of drives - a mixture of simulated partridge, pheasant and duck, around the historic Boughton Estate which both novice and more seasoned guns will enjoy.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

On the day you will be looked after by George Whittaker, George is a qualified shooting safety officer who has been working on the Estate for a number of years and is highly familiar with all the intricacies of each drive location. George will guide you through each drive and ensure that the shooting is of the highest quality throughout the day. In order to save you from having to make a special trip to the Gun Shop, eco-friendly cartridges will be on sale at a very reasonable price.

Guns must hold a current Shotgun Certificate or be accompanied by a responsible holder. Head protection (ie cap), eye protection and ear protection must be worn at all times whilst shooting.
